Before submitting, check that:

- ☐ The team information is complete, and every member understands their responsibilities.
- ☐ The learning goals describe what beginners should be able to explain or do.
- ☐ The content outline provides meaningful coverage with a manageable level of detail.
- ☐ The planned study guide, slides, and videos have clear purposes and share a common Markdown foundation.
- ☐ The proposed mini lecture focuses on one important idea and includes a concrete teaching approach.
- ☐ The schedule includes content review, production, testing, feedback, and revision before the relevant deadlines.
- ☐ Tasks have identifiable outcomes, responsible members, internal deadlines, and current statuses.
- ☐ The workload is realistic and reasonably balanced, with important dependencies and risks considered.
- ☐ The document is easy to read, links work, and all members have reviewed the plan.
- ☐ Significant AI use is documented, and the team can explain and justify the submitted plan.

1. NO missing information and everyone is fulfilling their responsibility
2. The goals are clear and can be be understood, complete with the topics they will learn and what they can achieve.

3. The content outline follows a chronological order that is easy to follow

4. The planned study guides are comprehensible and is consisted with the markdown content.

5. The mini lecture focused on one fundamental idea and is clear on the procedure as required

6. The schedule includes all the relevant content as required

7. The task includes all the relevant content as required and certain risk are considered

8. All are as required

9. Yes, Personal work log records it all